

As On the Story Goes

Before the dawn of dawning and once upon a time
a mighty evolution began its uphill climb,
until the Great Creator infused it with our souls
and we began our journey as on the story goes.

Refrain: As on the story goes, as on the story goes,
a tapestry that's woven from many long agos.
And how it will be ending nobody really knows.
We are the story tellers of how the story goes.

And so in time the great ones whose part in history
inspired us to remember how we were meant to be.
Down through the ages telling their tales of joy and woe, they join us in the journey and on the story goes. Refrain

The lives that we are living that each of us must own are not the sole possession of us and us alone.
We share our joys and sorrows with the Owner of our souls who joins us in the journey as on the story goes. Refrain

There's stories known to heaven that none will ever tell.
They reach the heights of glory. They plumb the depths of hell.
And every life unfolding before the One who knows is shared by the Creator and on the story goes. Refrain