

Jesus, Was a Carpenter

John 11

Jesus was a carpenter workin' with his hands
fixin' up the broken dreams across a troubled land.
He healed the sick and lonely, their bodies and their souls, took the rocky road to heaven and filled in all the holes.

Refrain: Jesus let us live now,
let us live within your grace.
Jesus let us live, now.
Let us live to see your face.

Laz'rus was a good man, so everybody said.
Jesus took him by the hand and raised him from the dead.
And the thief that died with Jesus way up on Calvary Hill, said, "Master please remember me." and Jesus said, "I will!"

Refrain

This world of ours, O Jesus, could sure use some repairs.
We wish that You could ease us in our troublesome affairs.
To free us from our sins we know the price You had to pay,
and we'll celebrate your gifts, O Lord, until that judgment day.

Refrain

©2014 by Tom DeFrange