

The Harvest Is Ready

Matthew 9: 35-10:8

The harvest is ready, but the workers are few.
We have all been commissioned and we know what to do.
The afflicted are waiting and the poor still in need,
the infirm seeking comfort, there are people to feed.

The people in darkness are still searching for light,
the oppressed and the captives who can no longer fight.
And the lonely and friendless are still here in our midst.
And the children about us who are always at risk.

The task is before us and the need is so great.
And the Lord now implores us and the times growing late.
Shall we stand with the great ones for the sake of the small,
and become God in action for the sake of us all?

The harvest is ready but the workers are few.
We have all been commissioned and we know what to do.
The afflicted are waiting and the poor still in need.
The infirm seeking comfort, there are people to feed.

©2014 by Tom DeFrange