

The Refuge

1 Peter

Refrain: If my will be the will of God no pain will ever be mine.
For all things move just as they should and outside of space and outside of time, God's will is only sublime.

Deep in the heart of your very soul your place of refuge lies, connected only to God's control where thought no longer flies.
If you would find peace
from the discordant tone surmount the effects of the law beyond the false bounty of senses alone secure in the knowledge of cause.

Refrain

Sleep on the featherbed of your soul, rocked on the ocean of love, soothed by the song of the wisdom of whole that is not below or above.
Go take your rest from illusion run wild in a paper world born of desire.
Borrow the innocents of the child.
God's balance will cool down the fire.

Refrain

©2014 by Tom DeFrance

