

We Who Dwell in the Shelter Of the Most High

Psalm 91

We who dwell in the shelter of the Most High,
who abide in his shadow of God's wings,
we will call God our refuge and stronghold.
We will trust God in everything.

For the Lord is our place of habitation.
With the Lord we will never be alone.
Nothing evil shall ever befall us,
nor affliction come near our home.

For the Lord shall protect us with his angels.
They will guard us in all of our ways.
On their hands they will carefully lift us
lest our feet on the stones should graze.

We will trample the lion and the serpent.
We will step on the viper without harm.
We will cling to the Lord who does save us,
Who protects us with mighty arms.

When we call on You, Lord, You're sure to answer,
and in trouble you're ever at our side.
You have shown us your love and salvation,
and with long life we're satisfied.