

Heaven

Well, I know of a very special place where you can finally see the Master's face;
And where you'll find that all sin has been erased
and there's never a trace of sadness.
Where there's a city with streets all made of gold with stored up treasures, neither bought nor sold;
and where God's people will live and not grow old,
where his children He'll hold in his arms.

Refrain: Because He died for me
I'll live eternally. Yes, I can live forever!
When we meet him there
we will love and share
all good things together.
So until then, Shine! Shine!
Let it shine now!

(Interlude)

Refrain:

There'll be no dying or hunger or fear,
and no more crying. We'll never shed one tear.
So listen closely, cause I want you to hear that Jesus is the one way to this place.
You can make it your home 'cause of his grace.
You can make it your home 'cause of his grace.
O heaven, there I'll be someday.
