

And Where Is God?

Psalm 22

When the thunder rolls around us and lightening fills the sky.
When the waves seem to engulf us and there's none to hear our cry.
And the wind of change keeps pushing us in directions left to chance.
Control is gone and we're helpless on the ship of circumstance.

Refrain: And where is God?
Is He anywhere to be found?
No pillar of fire to lead us to higher ground.
And where is God?
No signs from heaven appear.
No burning bush calling,
no manna is falling here.

Only fear I the cries of a hungry child of war.
Only fear in the eyes of an addict trying to score,
In the suicidal teenager about to take her life,
A mother beats her children, a husband beats his wife.

Refrain

An environmental tragedy is waiting 'round the bend.
Is it true we can by our own hand bring nature to an end?
Beyond the wars and pestilence and nuclear designs
We've drawn until the well is dry and drawn our battle lines.

Refrain

From Gethsemane they led Him, betrayed by one He loved.
They whipped Him and they scourged Him.
He was kicked and he was shoved.
Along the road to Calvary his cross He had to bear.
They hung Him high and left to die He cried out in despair.
