

At the Well

John 4: 5-12

At the well were I met Him He walked up to me
and we stood in the heat of the sun.
and He asked me to draw Him some water to drink.
As I did what He asked
He spoke of my past
and He told me of all I had done.

And He spoke of a water that quenches your thirst
so you'll never be thirsty again.
And I listened and wondered just who He might be,
who reached out to me
so casually
with a power unlike other men.

O come. O come and meet this man
He must be the one,
the king who's to come
who the prophets foretold
in scriptures of old...O come.

At the well were I met Him a treasure He gave Beyond any common place wealth.
Is this the Messiah, the One who's to come
who the prophets foretold
in scriptures of old.
Come meet Him and see for yourself.
