

Lookin' Over the Fence

Lookin' over the fence, the grass is always greener the sky's a little bluer, the air's a little cleaner.
Lookin' over the fence,
everybody's life is so sublime.

Lookin' over the fence,
you can be a happy mourner cause goodness sake your lucky break is just round the corner.
Lookin' over the fence,
it's only just a matter of time.

Bridge: But where we are is where we are no matter where we're lookin'.
And now's the only time we have in spite of all our bookin'.
To each of us the lord endows these strung together here and nows and longing for your neighbors cows will never get you cookin'.

Lookin' over the fence,
it's always bright and sunny They're havin' so much fun out there it isn't even funny.
Lookin' over the fence,
there's such a lot of wishin' to do.

Bridge

Lookin' over the fence, your story's always pending and if you never turn the page you'll miss your happy ending,

Cause just over the fence there's somebody wishin' they were you.

©2014 by Tom DeFrange