

The Perfect Gift

By Tom DeFrange

Look what God the Father has given us for Christmas.
So nicely we've been treated to something that we needed.
Just a Baby born of light to bring the world salvation.
and lift us from our sorry plight, into a new creation.
Silent night holy night, all is calm, all is bright.

How might we endeavor to return the favor of love that doesn't waver, but holds us sure and steady?
For we know the Father, is really hard to buy for,
and any thing we try for is prob'ly His already.
Silent night, holy night, angels quake at the sight.

He sent a gift from heaven to live and dwell among us;
a Love that came to love us and teach us how to show it.
So may we thank the Father by daily giving witness to what we got for Christmas that all the world might know it.
Silent night, holy night, cover the earth with your light.
