

The Window Pane

Matthew 18:15-20

The true reflection of ourselves lies in our words and deeds, in what we choose to care about;
in what we call our needs.
I can try to share with you the image you project
serving as a mirror
for what you can't detect.
But I watch you through a window pane and images I see includes my own reflection that is looking back at me.
So if you'd use me as your mirror be sure my vision's true.
It may be a reflection
that is more of me than you.

©2014 by Tom DeFrange

