

What Have You Done for Me Lately?

Old William died as we all will and went to stand before the Lord.
He said, "It's me, your servant Bill. I've come to claim my just reward."

"You may recall how as a boy at Sunday school I did excel, and how I helped my sister Joy, when from her bicycle she fell."

The Lord looked at his office clock. It was just about a quarter to nine.

And that just cheered him up a lot, it was almost quitting time.

He said to Bill, "You did just swell. I appreciate it greatly.
But that was then and this is now. What have you done for me lately?"

"How 'bout when I was a boy scout? I deed good deeds a lot of times.

I helped a neighbor lady out, collected for the March of Dimes.

I even kept a frog alive by freeing it from out its jar.

And when my sister learned to drive, I let her practice with my car."

The Lord he smiled politely and He thought for goodness sake!

He realized He just had worked right through his coffee break.

He said to Bill, "You did just swell. I appreciate it greatly.
But that was then and this is now. What have you done for me lately?"

"O Lord, in truth, now, from my youth I never took your name in vain, or stole a car or beat my wife, or drank too much or sniffed cocaine.

And every Sunday for an hour I came to praise your mighty power, and never let a basket pass without an offering of cash."

The Lord packed up his briefcase and He stifled a little yawn.

He had some stuff to do at home and maybe mow his lawn.

He said, "My son, I got to run. There's a good game on T.V.
Just have a seat I'll be back next week if you want to talk to me.

And oh, by the way...What have you done for me lately?"

Well, luckily the Lord above treats us better than we treat Him.

His offerings of grace and love are not based on some passing whim.

May we in service to the Lord return his love for us in kind, by giving what we can afford to help the cause of people kind.

For no matter what has been our past of God we'll never have to ask,

"What have you done for me lately?"
