

Wings of His Heart

You can see without your eyes if you ride upon the wings of his heart.
You can know what no one knows if you follow like you did from the start.
Time keeps rolling slowly by. He can feel your pain. He can hear your cry.
And I need not explain. It is all not in vain, not in vain.

You can feel the Spirit's love if you have a simple faith in your heart.
He can take away your fears, and you know He's cared for you from the start.
He's ever at your side. He will lift you up high above the tide.
If you're coping with sorrow, He brings hope for tomorrow.

You can see a future bright when you ride upon the wings of his heart.
You can soar into the light if you ride upon the wings of his heart,
if you ride upon the wings of his heart,
if you ride upon the wings of his heart.
Won't you ride upon the wings of his heart?