

Beyond the Worlds Reality

Reach in the darkness and pull out a light.
Straddle the saddle and battle the night.
If you get bruised or abused it's alright.
You've got the power if you've got the sight to see,
beyond the world's reality.

Some see division and some see the whole.
Some have the vision to see with their soul.
If in the Spirit you search for his grace gather your truth from the very same place to be,
beyond the world's reality.

His power around you will keep you energized
If you open yourself to the things beyond your eyes.
Perhaps there's more about you than you first realized,
you first realized.

Harvest your grain where no seed has been sown.
Share in the vision that no one has known.
And if you fear you'll be drifting out there on your own,
well He wouldn't leave us to figure it out on our own.
We share a common destiny, beyond the world's reality.
