

Give Them Wings

And for the fallen who have somehow lost their way,
the unqualified who've been cast aside,
who never ever found a dream to guide their way
and the quest for hope has been denied;
who never got to know just how or where to grow
or who they really are inside.

Refrain: O give them wings that they might fly!
Give them wings to touch the sky!
Help them find who it is they're meant to be.
Give them vision that they might see
all the glory inside them, hold and guide them.
Give them wings!

And for the restless ones in search of who they are,
with a zest for life that is sure and strong;
who need the tools to help them reach their special star
and to grasp the dream before it's gone;
who yearn to stretch and fly just like the butterfly
that from cocoon to light is drawn.

Refrain: O give them wings that they might fly!
Give them wings to touch the sky!
Help them find who it is they're meant to be.
Give them vision that they might see
Free the passion inside them, hold and guide them.
Give them wings!
