

Be Alert, Be Awake

By Tom DeFrange

Refrain: Be alert. Be awake. Don't make the mistake of being caught unprepared.

Keep a candle burning. The master returning will need to know somebody cared,
that in his redemption they shared.

An indefinite chain of tomorrows before us.
The schedules set, let eternity slide.

We live each day as if death will ignore us.
We're not worried yet.

We have time on our side. Refrain

Like a thief in the night, no one's sure of the hour.
The moment of reckoning none can discern.

As one who is vested in glory and power,
The Lord of the Ages is bound to return. Refrain

©2014 by Tom DeFrange