

Affinity

God made man and God made woman, perfect halves whose unity manifests humanity
and the human whole.

Equal partners made for giving
Joining in expressing love,
sharing in creation of bodies for the soul.

But in the jungle of earlier days
such where the ways that we survived,
that the man had freedom to roam
bringing back home the daily prize.
While the woman, often with child
out of the wild worked by the cave.
So it was that the taker of life
took the giver of life to be his slave.

And the taker is still taking,
for it seems he never learns.

Nation after nation turns
to its warring games.

Man the killer is still ruling
so in need of womanhood
to provide the balanced good
that is nature's aim.

By and by in parts of the earth
intellectual worth is recognized.
To the status women are brought to be worthy of thought in some men's eyes.

And most every venture we share
usually fares successfully.

But as long as man rules earth alone
humanity's prone to misery.

We must unite for race survival
more than only physically
if this world to unity is to someday grow.

Equal partners on all levels
helping people-kind to stand
Sharing in the God-head's plan.

We've so far to go.

We've so far to go.
