

I'm An Explorer

I'm an explorer beyond the edge of human knowledge where words soon lose all meaning in their efforts to describe the understandings that belong to we who find them, the restless truth collectors who are never satisfied.

Come fly with me and we'll blaze a trail together across the mighty cosmos stretching out within our souls, where all the answers that were once the total picture soon find themselves demoted to a small part of the whole.

If you would follow, you must leave the world behind you, many teachings and traditions handed down to people-kind,
and walk unfettered toward mysterious horizons with nothing else to guide you but the wisdom of your mind.

Trust in the Spirit, the God-connected navigator to guide you through the choices life's journey sometimes brings.

In time you'll see it, the joyful mystic vision,
the treasures of the kingdom buried deep within all things.

And we will never, never be done.
till God and we who search for Him are one.
As our awareness of Him within us grows we become the knowers of the One who knows.
As on this joyful journey we are led all the mysteries of heaven lie ahead.
And our awareness of Him within us grows as we become the knowers of the one who knows.
I'm an explorer.
