

Good Friday

Jesus, we left everything that we had to follow You closely through good times and bad.
And we watched you with wonder as You traveled the land,
healing the sick with the touch of your hand,
and how You forgave them again and again.

Refrain: And wasn't it all such a glorious thing?
When we marched through Jerusalem how they did sing,
"Hosanna, Hosanna, to Jesus our King."
Was it all for nothing?

And oh, how the multitude flocked to your side
As we your disciples were bursting with pride.
And we watched You with wonder as the Pharisees came.
Your words were like thunder as You put them to shame,
Until they all shook at the sound of your name. Refrain

Jesus we listened to all that You said.
Don't strike down your enemies, love them instead.
And look now O Jesus to where, to where it has led.

We are but simple folks, weak and so small
Without You beside us we're nothing at all.
And it's too late to tell You now, now that your dead.
How we knew in your love we were never misled.
And how we all loved you much more than we said.
Without You...we're nothing.
