

My Soul Is Thirsting

Psalm 63

Refrain: O My soul is thirsting for You, O Lord my God.

O yes, my soul is thirsting for You, O Lord my God.

And yes my soul is thirsting for You, O Lord my God.

Yes, my soul is thirsting for You, O Lord my God.

O God, my God the One for whom I seek,
my flesh pines for You and my soul is weak from thirstin'. I am searchin' for your sanctuary fine.
I wanna look upon your glory. You are good and kind.
Like the earth parched and hungry for a drop of rain,
I'm longing for your love to make me whole again.
My lips will sing your glory and the story I will tell of all you've givin', yes, I'm driven to salvation's well...Refrain

Thus will I address You, bless You while I live.

With hands held high, I call on You to give me all the riches of a banquet as You fill my soul.
I will raise You up and praise You, You who make me whole.
You're my help in times of trouble and with joy I sing,
resting ever 'neath the feathers of your mighty wings.
I'm clinging ever near You as I hear You tell how you're given livin' water at salvation's well...Refrain
