

Thank You for Tomorrow

Refrain: O Lord, thank You for tomorrow, for the promise of still another day, still another day to come.

And from the unrest of nations to the unrest in our own lives, it's hard to see beyond our problems, but what if tomorrow the sun didn't rise. Refrain

And then You came to live among us to tell us we weren't born to die, that if we follow your suggestions we will be with You by and by. Refrain

©2014 by Tom DeFrangé