

And in a Song

Refrain: And in a song heaven gathers around us,
surrounds us with harmony strong.
And in a song; the Spirit within us
is silently singing along.
And the universe bows to beckon the clouds
that role as a thundering throng.
Glory invites us, unites us with love in a song.

Driven by hunger we wander and wonder;
the boundary seems ever near.
But how do we get there from here?
Does anyone know?
Our senses betray us convey to us passages
made from the shadow of light.
Where is the spiritual sight that heaven bestows?
While gently a power within us is flowering,
showering us with its light
to lead us out of this night. Refrain

Sometimes we feel it so close and so real it almost seems like it is here
when someone we love brings us near,
near to its glow.
Sparks of divinity reach from infinity,
touches of heaven's embrace
playfully join in the chase and race with our souls.
And gently a power within us is flowering,
showering us with its light.
But until we are ready for flight
we still have our song...Refrain
